Cat C12 Engine Reviews

I used to drive a day cab columbia with a c12 hauling trash out of nyc, the truck would run 24 hrs a day for 5/6 days a week. They took a lot of abuse and kept on running, didnt get good fuel mileage or good maintenance, and used alot of oil, but I think if one was properly taken care of it would a good motor

It is a fine engine. We've had a 430hp C12 for about 4 yrs. Depending on the weight you will be pulling, and how fast you want to run, I HIGHLY recommend a 13spd transmission. Being able to split the top side makes a HUGE difference in pulling ability. Have 3.70 gears with ours, and gets 6.5mpg. This is in a day cab T800.

I'm close to buying a truck any day now. I've looked at a few and read about many. I'm wondering something though. One truck that I looked at was class 8 with a Cat C10 engine, but it had about 350,000 miles on it. I'm also considering class 7 trucks, one of which does have the doubtful Cat 3126, but it only has about 90,000 miles on it.

Cat C10 Question | Expedite Trucking Forums

The Cat liked the rpms more than the Cummins the 3406 was a easier truck to shift as you were not concentrating on keeping the rpms low like you have to with the 400BC. Its all personal preference on what engine is the best some people say Cat some people say Cummins but is pretty hard to beat a 8v92 Silver detroit KW

Engines before then could have one of Cat's earlier coolers, as the thing was repeatedly redesigned each time they got it wrong in the period from the mid 1990s till 2007 or so. When buying a boat therefore you need to check the engine itself plus the engine serial numbers with Cat dealer, to find out if the engine has the latest design cooler ...
