Holden VE Commodore Engine Mounts Replacement

G'day all, My VX is currently at the mechanics for a rego check and I've just been told by my wife that the engine mounts need replacing or it will not pass. The kicker is they want $500 for the job (which I could put to much better use like buying food for my family). My question for those of you in the know: is this a reasonable price? BTW, the vehicle has done about 140,000 Kms.

Keep going and suddenly the engine will lift off the mounts. I lifted the engine as far as I dared, then had my mate rock the engine slightly to one side so I could pull out the passenger's side mount (but you could do the driver's side first if you wanted). It took some fiddling but I got it eventually. Here's an old mount, next to a new one.
